BERCHMANS ERUDITE LECTURE SERIES (BELS)

Berchmans Erudite Lecture Series was instituted in 2012 with the generous financial contribution from the faculty of the college to mark the 90th year (NAVATHI) of the college. BELS aims to invite scholars of excellence of various disciplines preferably Nobel laureates to the campus for lectures and interactions with the students and the faculty. BELS is not strictly an annual event but one which is held when the most suitable scholar is identified and available. This is to ensure the quality of the lecture.

NOBEL LAUREATE @SB

Sir Richard John Roberts

Sir Richard John Roberts is a British biochemist and molecular biologist. He was awarded the 1993 Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine with Phillip Allen Sharp for the discovery of introns in eukaryotic DNA and the mechanism of gene-splicing. He currently works at New England Biolabs.
