Comet fragment explodes in dark skies over Spain and Portugal

May 20, 2024

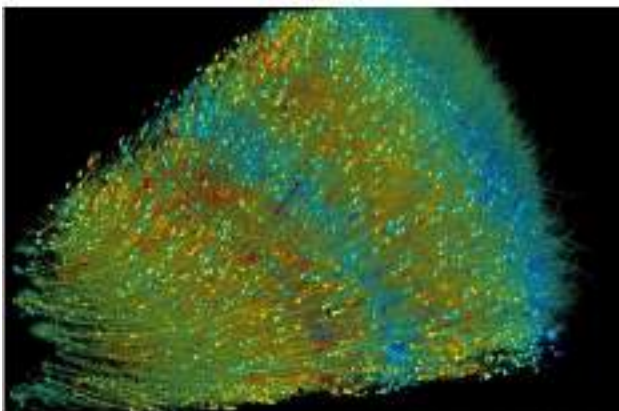

On Saturday, revelers across Spain and Portugal ventured into the temperate springtime evening, hoping for a memorable night. None were expecting a visitor from outer space exploding above their heads. At 11:46 p.m. in Portugal, a fireball streaked across the sky, leaving a smoldering trail of incandescent graffiti in its wake. Footage shared on social media shows jaws dropping as the dark night briefly turns into day, blazing in shades of snowy white, otherworldly green and arctic blue.

Biological puzzles abound in an up-close look at a human brain

THE HUMAN BRAIN IS A COMPLEX ORGAN. THIS VISUALIZATION SHOWS THE DENSE NETWORK OF NEURONS AND SYNAPSES THAT MAKE UP THE BRAIN'S STRUCTURE.

Scientists had hints of these mysteries in earlier peeks at this bit of brain (SN: 6/29/21). But now, those details have been brought into new focus by mapping the full landscape of some 57,000 cells, 150 million synapses and their accompanying 23 centimeters of blood vessels, researchers report in the May 10 Science. The full results, the scientists hope, may lead to greater insights into how the human brain works.
